Exceptional Staff Serves Lumen Christi

To insure the smooth function of any operation, it is necessary for a firm and supportive control to be in charge. In order to make sure that our school is run efficiently and effectively, Lumen Christi has at its head a fine administration and office to guide the student body in all its needs. This exceptional staff, headed by Fr. Joseph Coyle, and aided by assistant principals Sr. Anne and Mr. James Crowley, works untiringly to keep faculty and student body informed with school policies and decisions in whatever way possible. From schedules to discipline to coordinating activities, Lumen Christi's administration is outstanding in its service.

This competent staff is complemented by a very fine crew of L.C. secretaries, who by their friendly and helpful attitude succeed in both aiding the administration in fulfilling its duties and in serving the students wherever necessary.

Secretaries Mrs. Buckles and Mrs. North, and Office Block student Kathy Gostola put finishing touches on the announcement sheet.

Mr. Jim Van Buren, who handles the financial end of the administration, and Rosemary Korc assist Dorothy Thompson in the business office.

Fr. Coyle welcomes seminarians Thomas J. Helfrich and John J. Mashel, student teachers, to the L.C. staff.

Pastors Support Catholic Education

Our Beloved Bishop, Alexander Zaleski, has appointed these dedicated Priests to serve all the Catholic people of the Jackson Area. They are the Pastors of Jackson. They are interested and concerned that every boy and girl in the Jackson area receive a reasonable opportunity to attend a Catholic School from grades one through twelve.

Under their direction and support, the Catholic Community Campaign has been revitalized. The continuation and growth of the Catholic Schools in general and Lumen Christi High School in particular depends in great part on their leadership.

The Class of '72 salutes the Pastors of Jackson. We thank them for their tireless efforts to keep all the Catholic Schools open. In a special way we want them to know that we are grateful for the opportunity which they gave each one of us to attend Lumen Christi. We know and appreciate the Christian values that we had the opportunity to study and live.

Workers of Lumen Unite

Appreciation must be shown to those workers who together make Lumen Christi a clean and convenient place for students and faculty.

The maintenance crew takes care of the general upkeep of the school making sure that everything is in proper condition for both hygenic and safety reasons.

Each day our unrelenting cafeteria staff, headed by Mrs. Vaughn, prepares a well balanced appetizing meal for the students and faculty. With the help of volunteer mothers, who serve in the Commons Area, every student can receive some type of nourishment during lunch time.

Mrs. Maes makes available to the students various school supplies and T-shirts in the bookstore.

Our maintenance crew, cafeteria, and bookstore help prove that teamwork keeps Lumen all together and running smoothly.

Clearing a Path for the Future

An outstanding guidance department in a high school is essential for a student's growing process. An outstanding guidance department is exactly what Lumen Christi has. The people who help clear paths for the future are Mr. Richard Doll, Sr. Marie Leo, and, newcomer, Sr. Frances Bernard. Besides helping distraught seniors find colleges, these angels of mercy assist the students in scholarship programs, nationwide tests, curriculums, and other personal problems. We are very much indebted to these fine people.

Sr. Frances Bernard discusses with Jim Chapman the problems of being a freshman.

Mr. Doll prepares admittance slips for Joel Fontana, Louise Blackman, and Brian McKenna.

Expression of Thought

Sr. Julienne stresses the right word in the right place to her World Literature class.

Language is the means by which a verbal picture is created to entertain, influence, enhance, and motivate the viewer. The English Department at Lumen Christi teaches its students to paint pictures with words. Students are also encouraged to visualize and interpret the author's intent in written words. Expression of thought is emphasized. Prose, poetry, art, and stories appearing in the annual Word of Youth show the efforts of the entire English Department. This is done under the guidance of Sr. Julienne, head of the English Department, and the rest of the staff: Sr. Christine, Sr. Margaret Patrick, Sr. Marie Leo, Sr. Angela Marie, Mr. David Swartout, Mr. Anthony Sutton, Mr. Roger Roty, and Sr. Bridgetta.

Social Science Expands Understanding of Man

Learning how other people have lived, how they live now, and how we can better understand and live in a peaceful world with them is the goal of the Social Studies Department. With this goal in mind our social science teachers try to help L.C. students achieve a better understanding of the world about them.

Beginning freshman and sophomore years with Orientation to Social Studies, followed by a study of American History and continuing into senior year with classes in Contemporary Civilizations, Economics, Government, and Psychology, the social science department is one of L.C.'s most extensive areas of study. Classes focus on understanding of the mind, and on the behavior of people in all eras in history. The adage 'history repeats itself' is often quoted, and many classes are spent discussing previous historic errors and methods to avoid repeating them. With this department L.C. should produce many well-informed students of current world situations.

Math Courses Develop Minds

With the technological advances being made in our world, an understanding of Math is a must to keep up with the latest developments presented to us. Our Mathematics Department at Lumen Christi is aware of this and classes are spent in teaching basic fundamentals in Math for a practical use in the future, and in pre-college algebra, geometry, trigonometry, and pre-calculus courses. The department offers a wide variety of electives and one can easily choose a class he desires to take. Courses are constantly being improved so the student can be better trained for today's world. Teachers participating in this department are Sr. Elizabeth, Sr. Marie Regina, Fr. Lynch, Fr. O'Donnell, Mr. Borton, and Mr. Torri.

Science Opens Door to Exploration

More than any other time in man's history, scientific research is now probing deeper, questioning more, and offering more solutions to the problems of life. In this frame of mind, Lumen Christi has chosen scientific curriculum designed to hlep students become aware of the forces shaping their environment. Under the direction of Sr. Ruth, L.C.'s science program continues to offer classes in which students can gain either a basic or well-developed background in science. From IPS and General Biology to Advanced Biology and Physics, students are given the opportunity to analyze, organize, and relate their ideas so as to become familiar with scientific processes and use their knowledge in today's fast-changing and technological world.

Hola, Bonjour, Salvé!

Sr. Sharon, Sr. Mary Lydon, and Sr. Marie Regina are the new arrivals in Lumen Christi's language department. They are accomplishing wondrous deeds with their language students. Sr. Bridgetta and Miss Graziadei had given their previous students the initial backround in their chosen field of language.

The languages now offered are four years of the Romance Languages, French and Spanish, plus four years of the Classic language Latin. Together the language teachers have been working to fully develop Lumen Christi's language department. The language lab is constantly being used to install linguistic comprehension in beginning students. Advanced students practice their proefficiency in reading, speaking, and understanding their language.

We Find True Accomplishment Through Religion

Applying the teachings of Christ to our daily life is one of the goals of the Theology teachers at Lumen Christi. Through group discussions, analyses of readings, projects, collages, and frequent Masses, students are constantly made aware of the joy and the sense of security attained by leading a life close to God. From controversial to everyday issues of life, each student has a change to freely express his or her views.

Heading the Religion Department is Father Regent. His capable assistants are: Sister Therese Marie, Mr. James Gallagher, Sister Nancy, Mr. Thomas Goodwin, Miss Raphaelle Graziadei, Mr. John Powers, and Miss Katie Russell.

Production was the key word for the Drama Department this year. Not only learning the arts of mime, improvisation, dance movement and subtext, the dramateers were introduced to a new side of dramatics: the production of a show. They controlled all business branches of the productions this year: programs, publicity, staging, ticket sales, and directing. Students wrote and directed original plays performed for Children's Theatre and Paka Plaza and have gained a wide background in the starry world of the theatre.

The art masters stroke again with a success-art sale at Christmas time. Their ingeneous and varying styles and media brightened the Titan halls. The aspiring artists emerging from the department have given their touch to yearbooks, program designs, bulletin boards, stage crew designs, and simple self-satisfaction. Gaining an appreciation of the masters and attempting all techniques, the students are enriching their enjoyment of talent and beauty, and spreading the interest throughout the Christi halls.

The One and Only Genuine Original Christi Band

The 1971–1972 Lumen Christi High School Band began the school year last August. The occasion was the Al Worden Homecoming Parade. Forty percent of the band was composed of incoming freshmen. These odds were soon overcome with long hours of marching and lectures by director Karl Baschal on correct notes. By September, there was an unmistakable spirit of unity among the band members. For the next three months the band gathered together some courage and proceeded to concentrate on half-time shows, gaining student support. Basketball games, pep rallies, the solo and ensemble festival, the district band festival, and various school concerts comprised the remainder of the year. The appreciation of the band goes out to the pom-pom girls and majorettes who faithfully worked with them and gave their support throughout the year.

Helen North and Fred Baschal are pleased with the success of their last number directed by Mr. Baschal.

Let There Be Music

Lumen Christi's Choir and Music Arts Class have been very active this year, recreating the melodious sounds of various composers. The director of the choir and Music Arts Class is Mr. Steve Flick. Mr. Flick devotes choir class time to perfecting the harmonizing of all parts, tone quality, and pitch. Music Arts is devoted to teaching the students the background of the various composers and their types of music.

The Choir presents a few concerts during the year for students, faculty, and parents with the guidance of Mr. Flick who has inspired all his students to let there be music.

Physical Education Offers a Chance to Excel

Physical Education classes at L.C. provide a student with the opportunity to excel individually in many diverse activities. From basic skills in volleyball and soccer to intrinsic stunts performed in a tumbling routine, each student learns the importance of developing body coordination.

Mrs. Nancy Gaskell and Mr. Herb Brogan teach the Phys Ed classes at L.C. They provide the able guidance needed to reassure every student in times of fleeting confidence.

As a result of the Phys Ed program, something new has been added in the way of extracurricular activities. L.C. now has a gymnastic club. Working out after school, these girls practice with hopes of competing in regularly scheduled city wide meets. They are coached by Mrs. Gaskell.

This year Lumen Christi offers many opportunities for every student in the area of Phys Ed. All one has to do is take advantage of them.

Students Find Satisfaction In a Business World

Lumen Christi provides students who are interested in the business world with extra special courses. Among the many courses offered are: Accounting, Typing I, Personal Typing, Shorthand I, Clerical Block, which consists of: Typing II, and Office Practice, and a Secretarial Block consisting of Shorthand II, Typing II, and Office Practice.

These courses give many students the full advantage and benefits of being qualified to do work in the business world.

There are many teachers who provide students with the necessary ability to work in a world of business. They are: Mr. Jim VanBuren, Mrs. Margaret Swartout, Mrs. Donna Ambs, Sister Jean, and Br. Charles. With their past experience in teaching students, each teacher shares a certain satisfaction and contentment as their students progress in their unique business courses.

Drafting Demands Accuracy

Acurracy is demanded of students attending drafting classes here at Lumen Christi. A steady hand and the ability to grasp blueprint concepts is also required.

Mrs. Joan Winzeler and Sr. Jean coach their students to hand in prompt assignments graded on their accuracy, line technique, and dimensional perfection.

Drafting I consists of learning the basic concepts of the art with patient guidance while Drafting II encourages students to work to the peak of their ability.

Both Drafting classes give the students insight into the many different careers they may pursue in the light of thie art and aid them in their plans for the future.

Home Economics Develops Useful Creativity

Home economics is a course offered to students who wish to learn more about cooking, sewing, and home creativeness. From a beautifully plump cake to a modern fashioned, clear-cut suit, each student establishes and exhibits his own creative ideas.

The boys in the home economics class are provided with the advantage of producing their ideas of a delicious, mouth watering meal in the Chef's Class. The extraordinary recipes are filled with the odds and ends of those who want to experience a delightful surprise when they taste their days offerings.

While the boys are portraying their ideas of a beautiful meal, the girls are practicing sewing and cooking habits which will help them enhance a life of domestic ability. All participating students give great credit to Sr. Celeste, who with patience and endurance, provides the greatest opportunity to all.

Source of Knowledge

Since the very first year Lumen Christi was opened in 1969, its library has been an ever expanding source of knowledge.

Sr. Jane Patricia and Mrs. Hartman see to the general upkeep and order of the library in addition to supplying the library with current books, magazines, and pamphlets for the benefit of both teachers and students.

The students and teachers rely on the library to find much of the material needed for their assignments. They have found the library to have a vast area of literature that covers a wide range of subjects. Audio-Visual equipment is also made available as aids in teaching and learning.

Although the 1971 football season was far from being the best in Titan gridiron history, it was a season in which the green and gold did exhibit a quality which is not found in every football team—the ability to come back after being defeated. The Titans managed to win four of the nine games they engaged in, and while it cannot be said that the defeats were ill-deserved, it must be admitted that the losses handed to us by Lansing Catholic and Grand Rapids West could very easily have been turned into Titan victories. The Titans, however, fought hard, and when on home grounds, thrashed Jackson High 13–8, and put down the high-flying Eagles of Parkside 7–0. These two hard-fought victories earned the Titans their second City Championship in four years. The Titans never trailed Willow Run and wiped them off 20–0. Of at least equal importance to the score at the final gun is the pride and sportsmanship exhibited. If this criteria had won games, the Titans would have been undefeated.

1971 Christi Awards

The 1971 Titans set out to prove that, when mastered, technique and quickness could beat bigness. They proved just that in defeating Parkside, Jackson High, Albion, and Willow Run in four straight contests. Size proved to be of no great loss when weighed against the overwhelming spirit which they possessed. Their alertness and determination earned for them the city title after winning two high-spirited games against crosstown rivals.

Shortly following the finish of the season, head coach Jim Crowley announced the winners of the traditional gridiron awards for 1971. Chris Comperchio was voted Most Valuable player of the season, and also picked up the Green Jersey Award. Quarterback Pat McCluskey was rewarded for his fine team leadership in receiving the Coaches Award. Stan Bucrek and John Curran shared the Most Improved Player award with each turning in a fine season. Brian McKenna, receiver of the Unsung Hero Award and Gary Giglio, the Oil Can winner, filled in as two more parts of a proud Titan team.

Under the direction of Coaches Doll and Brogan, the 1971 Junior Varsity team posted a fine 5–2–1 season record. Hard work and determination paid off for the reserves as they came through with the big play, and eventually the big win in five of their eight contests. They opened their 1971 season by shellacking Parkside 30–12 in their only inter-city clash. The Titans then went on to defeat Ypsilanti, Michigan Center, Albion, and Ann Arbor Huron, while being dumped only twice, once by Ann Arbor Pioneer 20–16, and by East Lansing 18–0. Their only tie came late in the season in a scoreless battle with Adrian.

The J.V.'s boasted a proud defense in shutting out three of their opponents and turning back many others. Their offense provided a good scoring punch in rolling up 96 points for a 12 point per-game average. The Titans were able to put their offense and defense together and gain valuable experience while staying away from any serious injuries. Through the work of Coach Doll and Coach Brogan the spirited reserves of 1971 were able to bring home for us a winning season.

Determined Freshmen Extend Titan Tradition

Titan John Hinkle finds the down-field action a little tight as he moves in to snare a Christi pass.

The Freshman football team opened the 1971 fall season with the spirit and determination of champions. Coached by two fine men, Mr. Thomas McInerney and Mr. Pete Powers, the little Titans acquired the much-needed experience which it takes to build a strong and healthy athletic program. This year's Freshman football squad was a relatively small one in number, consisting of only thirty players, but they soon proved that with hard work and determination they could come through and do the job for the class of '75. The team played a tough eight game schedule going up against such powerhouses as East Lansing, Frost, and Northeast. In their first season as Titans many individual standouts came forth and should help make football a continuing part of the Titan tradition.

Christi's offense sets for a long gainer against a stiff defensive charge.

Titan Trio Leads Team to Triumph

The Lumen Christi Cross Country team finished its fourth season on a successful note. The Titans coached by Pat Arpino were still strong this year despite a rash of injuries to Dan Smith, Chris Gleeson, and Frank Fleischmann. The team was led this year by the Titan Trio composed of seniors Pat Reardon and Dan Smith, and sophomore Mike Woolsey. These three led the team to a 4–4 won–loss record. Coach Arpino feels that the success of the team was due to their ability to group together and function as a team rather than individuals. He also remarked that the team was one of the best that he has ever coached. The team placed third in their regional and also finished well in all their invitationals, in which they ran against and defeated some of the best talent in the state. Mike Woolsey finished 36th in the state, while Pat Reardon finished 41st. Both Reardon and Woolsey won places on the All County Cross Country Team to cap off an excellent season.

Golfers Drive To State

Seniors led L.C.'s golfers to an excellent 11–4 season. Anchored by Captain Dave McGuire, the team marched through the fall to a second place finish in the regional.

The future looks bright with the consistent performance of Juniors Mark Egly and Tim McCollum, and Sophomores Tim Lefere, Bill Augustine, and Dave Dwyer.

Highlights of the year included our win over Jackson High, McGuire's second medalist finish at the Marshall Invitational, the bar at the Carlton Glenn, and the fine showing in the regional.

Varsity Earns District Title

The 1972 Titan Basketball team showed signs of improvement and accomplishment throughout the season. Their season was sparked by two revengeful wins against a tough Columbia Central outfit and a trip to the regionals following their district triumph. The Titans came alive in the second half of the season with some fine outside shooting by Gary Smith and Steve Farrell, and the many fine hook shots in the lane by senior Chuck Slack. The story of control was told in the height of Christi's excellent rebounding ability. With four men on the boards well over the six-foot mark, the Titans were able to control a good portion of every game and through the hard work and determination of Jim Dedrick, Tim McAuliffe, Chuck Slack, and Steve Farrell they turned many of these grabs into two point plays.

Coach Perticone did a fine job of stirring up the needed momentum both on the court and in the stands before the big games. With only three returning varsity lettermen from last years team, the inexperienced Titans gelled later in the season and came on strong to provide the thrill and excitement of victory, and the cliff-hanging despair of defeat. With the loss of only four seniors, next years team should prove its ability on the tartan or on the hardwood, but the '73 Titans have four big pairs of shoes to fill.

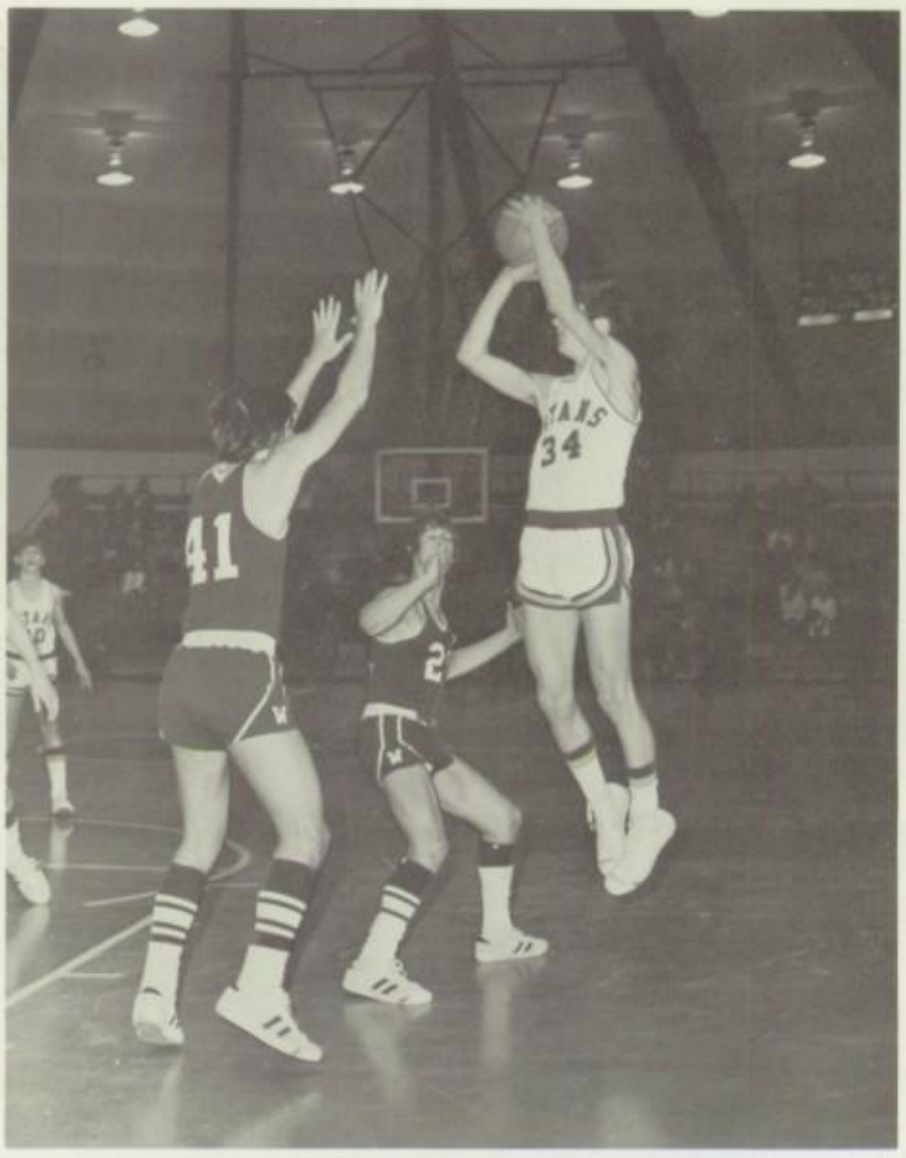
This years Junior Varsity team was one highlighted by the work of tough and eager athletes. Coach Dan Atkin provided the words of wisdom and enthusiasm which are a necessary part of any team. The J.V.'s worked long and hard in their endeavors on the court and were able to post wins against: Ypsilanti, Lansing Catholic, Columbia Central, and a tough Albion team. The shooting of Joe Slack, Rick Wilson, and Bill Augustine was a big factor in the reserve action. The much needed experience was attained for future varsity teams and the development of quality basketball players at Lumen Christi has begun.

Tim O'Dowd fights for a rebound against Jackson.



Joe Slack jumps for two against Western.

Slack lets go with a picture perfect shot.

Freshmen Look Good in First Outing

Freshman Basketball at Lumen Christi looked bright and rewarding for this year. First year basketball is always an unpredictable thing, but Coach David Swartout did an outstanding job in leading his young team to a respectable 6–11 season record. The Titans opened their season with a pair of victories against Tecumseh and Coldwater before dropping a close one to Albion by a score of 41–40. The seventeen game schedule may have proved the Titan's greatest challenge as they seemed to slow down about mid-season, but not until they had posted decisive wins against Lansing Catholic, Hunt, and Northeast. The ability of everybody to work together should foreshadow a fine Junior Varsity team in 1973 and an even Varsity in years to come.

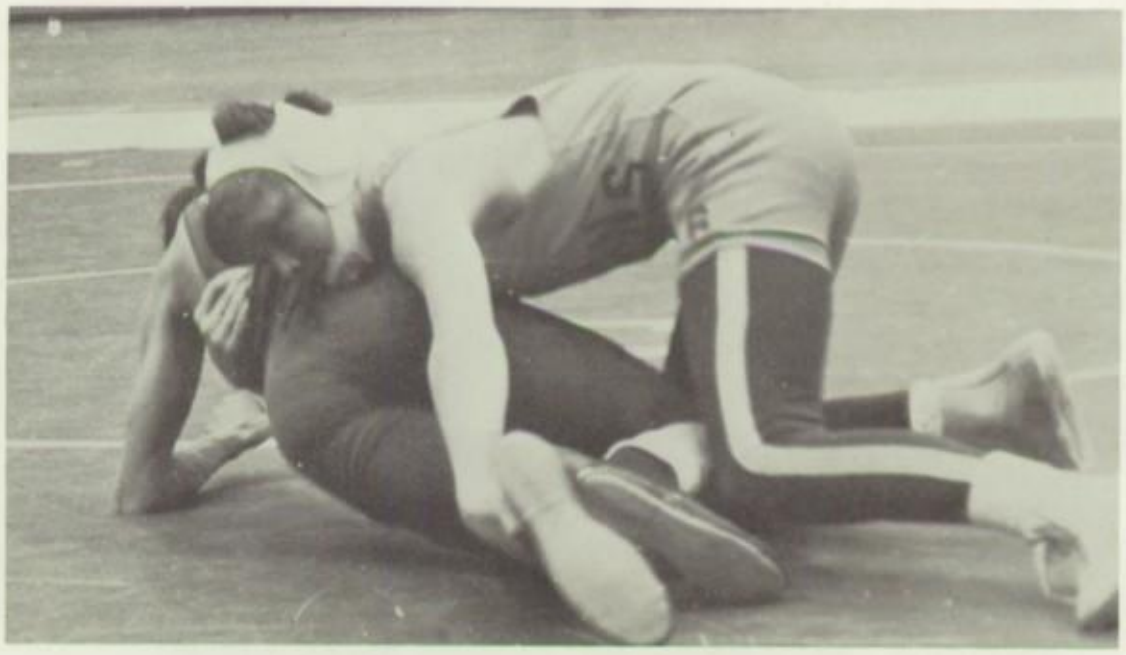
Wrestler's Future Bright

Stan Bucrek almost has that pin.

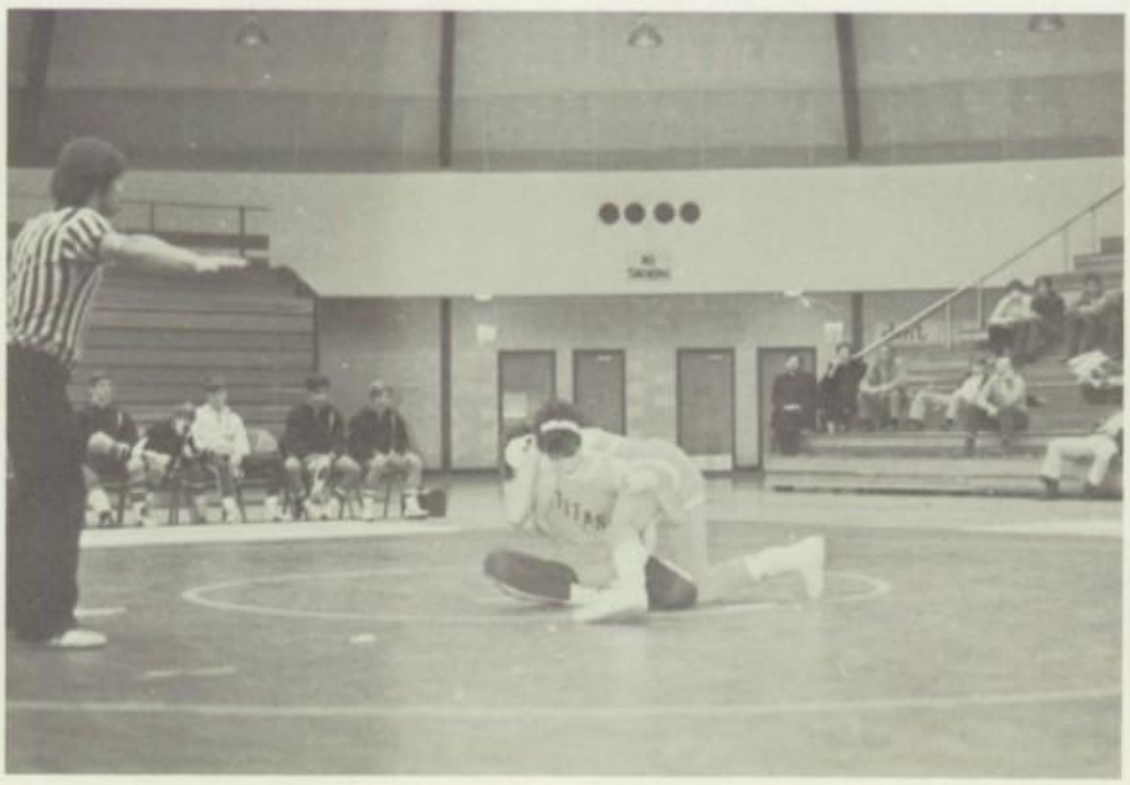
The Lumen Christi grapplers, coached by Mr. Tom Goodwin and Mr. Tom McInerney, finished this year with a 1–10 dual meet record. This record does not show the whole picture. In tournament action the Titan grapplers finished 9th at Western, where Senior Jim Powers was heavy weight champion, 11th place at Michigan Center, where Fred Gezich, also a Senior, finished 2nd in the 132 lbs. class, and 4th at the Constatine Tournament, where 2nd, 3rd, and 4th places were taken by Fred Gezich, Mike Kofflin, Mark Niekowal, Tom Connelly, Jim Beach, John Secord, and Dave Beach.

With only three Seniors on the team, Jim Powers (injured after the Western Tounament), Stan Bucrek, and Fred Gezich, the wrestling team had a successful season and is looking forward to a better season next year.

Stan Bucrek gets ready to put down his opponent.



"Just a little more effort and I'll have him."



Dave Beach seems to be in some kind of predicament.

Enthusiasm Sparks Cheerleaders

Neither rain nor sleet nor snow will pin down the energetic underclassmen cheerleaders. Even though they sometimes must cheer their team on with the help of only a few spectators, the JayVee and Freshman cheerleaders' exuberance and hope for victory are never stemmed. For their spirit is at its best when other casual onlookers have left; they remain, never giving up hope for a Titan victory.

The hard work, time consuming practice, and memorization of new cheers is equal to that of the efforts and stamina of our proud little Titans.

At the weekly pep rallies, the underclassmen cheerleaders present to the staff and student body their bolstering pride and spirit in leading their class with the hope of winning the Titan Spirit Key.

JayVee cheerleaders are: Marian Yocum, Marlene Slugay, Kathy Keena, Mardi Miller, Marilyn Lougheed, Nancy Farrand, and Captain Ruth Southwell.

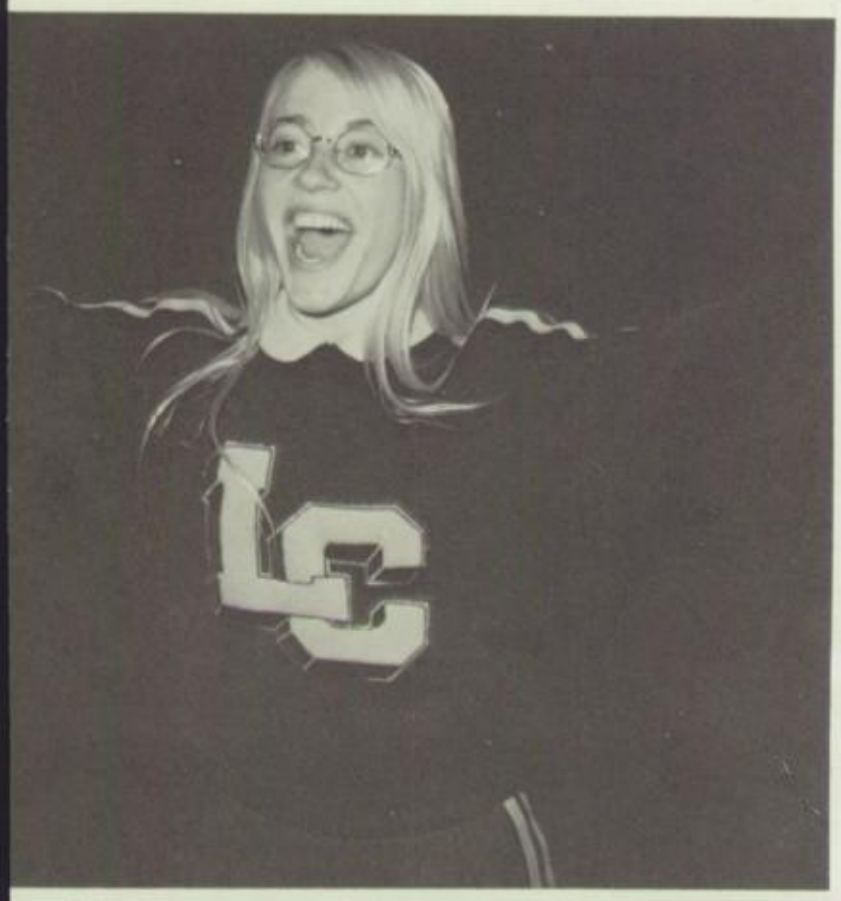
L. C. Cheerleading—A Venture in Spirit



What does it take to be a cheerleader? Strict form and spring, after-school hours of rigorous practicing, rules to abide by during the season, knowledge of game fundamentals, perfect attendance of all sports events, smile and spirit that weathers the elements, pep and leadership inspite of cold and windy nights. It takes a lot to be a cheerleader and the Varsity Titans have an entire squad of them, all promoting spirit and team support. The squad has been practicing since last summer and have mastered instant fluid movement as a group. They took Camp All American by storm when they were awarded three ribbons for excellence in competition. This boosted them on to cheer our teams to victory. Performance at the Northwest clinic in November brought home a third place title. At any Titan sports event, take note that the cheers and support, and most of all, the sincerity felt in the air, is promoted by Mr. Titan and his squad for a Titan victory.

Clubs: Involvement and Contribution

Latin Club officers are Jan Martin, John Filip, and Anne Bachle

Lumen Christi is proud of the many clubs within her walls that promote school participation and spirit. The members of the gymnastics club, ski club, drama club, culture club, Latin club, and Christi's pom pom girls and majorettes are all ambitious students anxious to participate in school activities and contribute in some way to the school.

The gymnastics and ski clubs advocate vibrant vitality while the drama, culture, and Latin clubs symbolize activity and enjoyment while learning. Lumen Christi's pom pom girls and majorettes promote an unending school spirit.

Each student willingly devotes much of his or her time and energy to our school with the intention of getting involved in certain areas of particular interest. The clubs provide all students with the opportunity to get involved in Lumen Christi.

Our cultured Culture Club officers are Patty Cochran, Mary Jo McGowan, and Margie Gallagher.

Edie proves it takes elasticity to belong to the Gymnastics Club.

Drama Club officers hamming it up: Pat Riley, Debbie Dressell, Sally Paulis, Josef Comperchio.

Student Council Achieves Its Goal

While their fellow classmates crammed in last-minute summer activities, our diligent Student Council sacrificed their final weeks of summer vacation organizing a used-book sale. This is how its been with Student Council all year long. They are always working and giving up their after school hours to promote some kind of activity for our school. Beginning with the used-book sale, Student Council has sponsored food baskets, film nights, Mardi Gras, CCC Campaign, bowling tournaments, Homecoming, and intramurals.

The Student Council moderators are Father Cecil O'Donnell and Mr. Tony Borton. They have worked diligently all year round to provide the Student Council with the necessary knowledge needed for them to achieve their goals.

Extra! Extra! Hey, Look At The Headlines!

Lumen Christi's newspaper, the Titan Times, is definitely an important part of our tradition. Without a scheduled journalism class, a greater challenge was brought forth for the staff to meet. Through the excellent guidance of Sr. Francis Bernard, moderator, the staff published an interesting paper covering current school events, editorials, and feature stories. Time and effort are inclusive components for the publishing of a newspaper. Student reporters cover various topics and attack them in a creative way to promote interest. The copy must be proofread and edited, and headlines and illustrations be originated. The finished copy is finally taken to the printer and another issue of the Titan Times is on its way. Cathy Patnode and Kurt Snyder supported their staff through every critique and compliment and feel confident and grateful for their endeavorous effort to bring the scoop to Titantown.

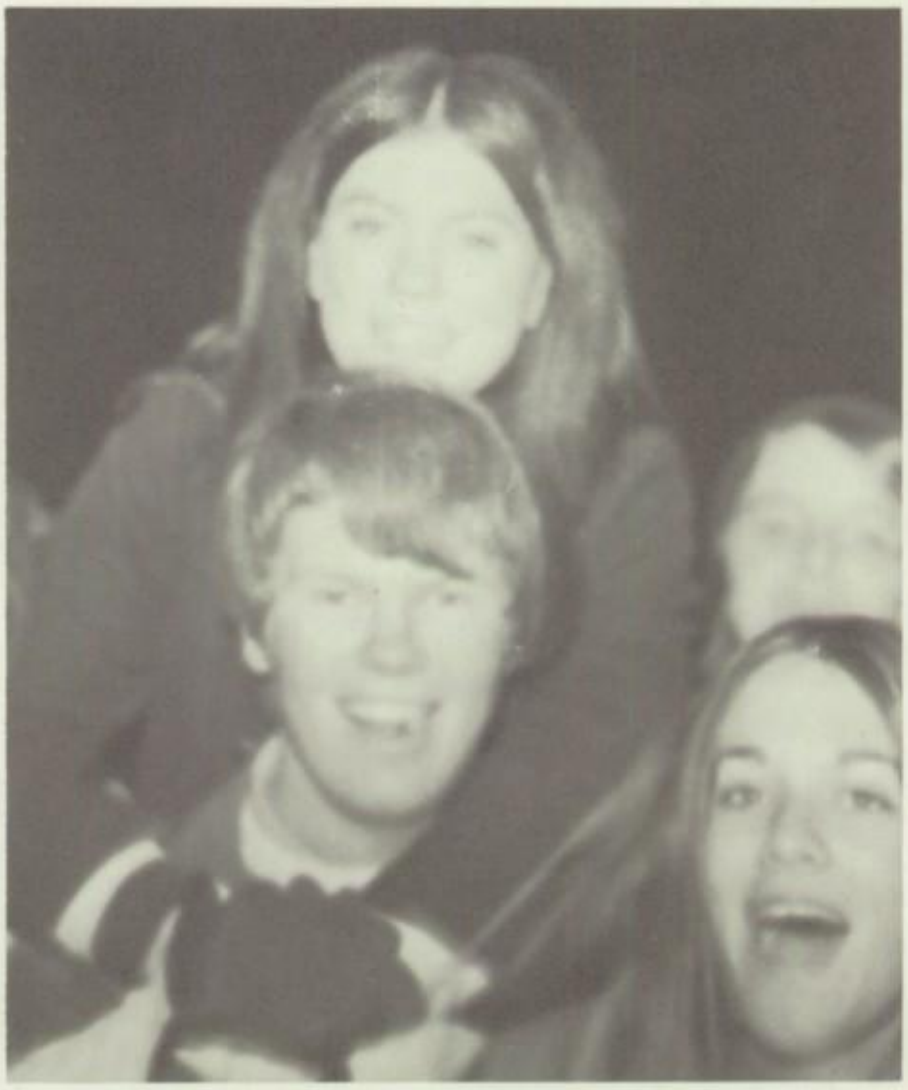
A Time For Spirit

This year's Titan Week was more spirited than ever as we celebrated winning the city championship. Once again our Varsity football team donned their uniforms for the last time in their final game of the season against Ypsi. The entire week was a time for spirit, a time of preparation, a time of hope of finishing the season in victory.

Spirit emanated from the student body during the week long festivities. From the signs on the wall declaring our pride to the sound of our voices as we wished the team goodluck, Spiritual Day, Beat Ypsi Day, and the big bonfire, made up traditional activities of Titan Week. A new contest was started this year as the first annual tug-of-war was won by the spirited senior class. The entire week was one of pride towards our school and final tribute towards the football team.



Top: Titan Spirit makes everybody happy! Left: When the Spirit moves you, Lord, you've got to move. Bottom: The Mighty Witchdoctors cast a spell on Ypsi to assure a Titan victory.

Production and Portrayal

Originality motivated the dramatic productions at Christi this season. Continental Showboat cashed in on Josef Comperchio's outstanding musical abilities for the original theme song and the connecting dialogue was created by a few senior students. Selections from Man of La Mancha, Brigadoon, The Sound of Music, the King and I entertained great audiences and satisfied many curiosities about the gigantic ship sitting in the cefetorium for days.

Oscar Wilde's comedy of manners, The Importance of Being Earnest, was attacked in a unique manner. The English humor was presented in a highly stylized form to bring out the oddities and hypocrasy of English society. The portrayal was done superbly and introduced a new type of comedy to the Jackson area. Sr. Rose takes pride in producing the new and different to bring a wide background of drama to the audience and a great scope of experience to the Titan players.

Debbie Dressell loses her head over Continental Showboat.

As Adam was about to taste the fruit, the man with the camera said: Hold it! One more picture!

Jack (Ralph Messner) declares his love for Gwendoline (Cathy Kurzynowski).

The British have a way for everything.

Rev. Chausable (Kevin Cook) comforts Jack on the death of his imaginary brother, Earnest.

Merriman (Mark Sawicki) announces the arrival of Mr. Earnest Worthing to Cecily (Sally Paulis).

Stage Crew: Usually Always Unsung

Back Sasha Back! Nice kitty cat!

Probably the hardest working yet least acknowledged group in the entire school is the indefatigable marching Stage Crew. During many a long hour after school, the Crew, under the inspiring direction of Mr. Sutton, slave to construct adequate yet original sets, with nothing to reward their bruises and blisters, other than seeing their names misspelled in the program.

We express our appreciation to the Stage Crew and Mr. Sutton, because without them the show just couldn't go on.

Hey, I finally got in the spotlight. Hi Mom!

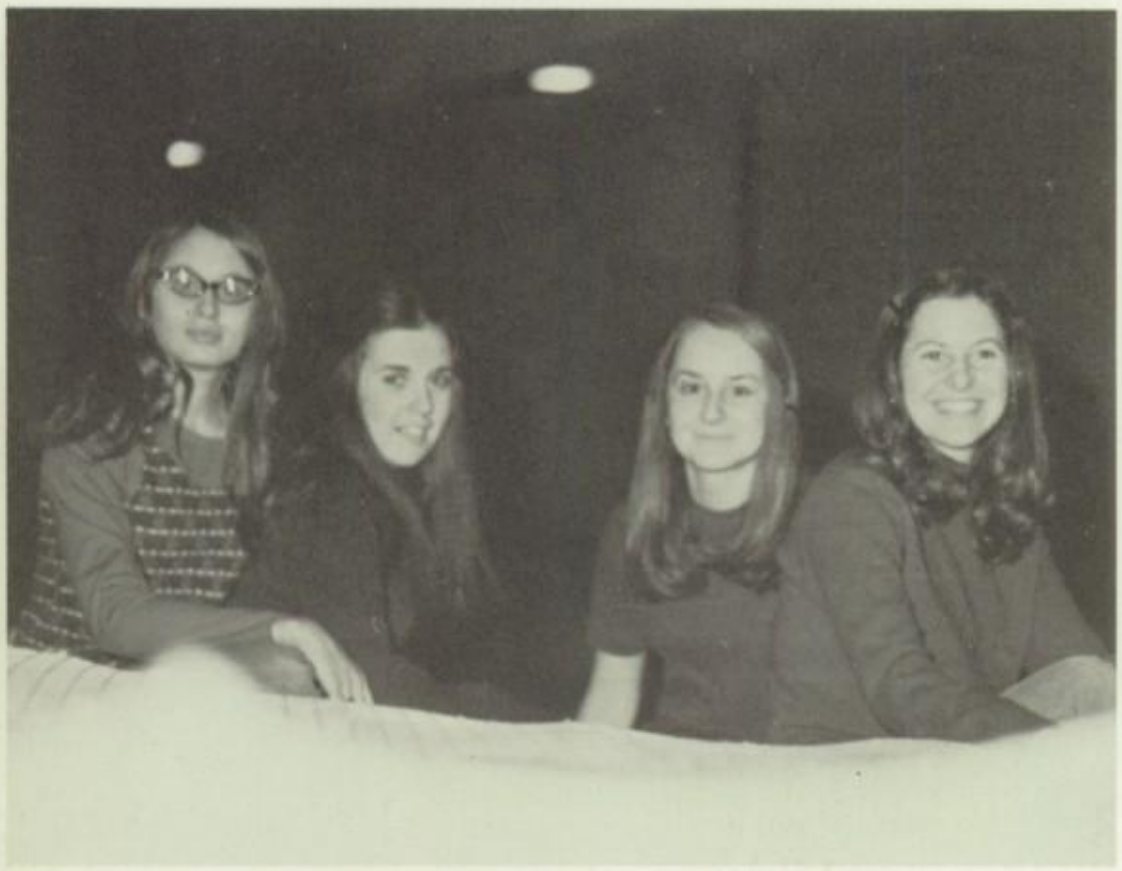
He may work us to death, but we still have energy to smile.

Mama told me not to come.

Keep on truckin' stage crew.

King Sutton takes his fledglings under wing.

Spirit—Let's Hear It



Pep Club Officers: Secretary Melanie Powers, Treasurer Pat O'Connell, Vice-President Josie O'Connell, President Jonne Miller.

The Pep Club is created for the sole purpose of promoting school spirit. This purpose is achieved only through the faithful support of the student body. Meetings this year were scheduled for Monday evenings. Representatives were elected and minds were programmed for the task of spirit making.

Dances, spirit posters, and pep rallies were only the beginning of the many activities Pep Club set out to sponsor. Homecoming, the frenzied preparations for Titan Week, and the extremely well done skits were also the product of this dedicated group. Truly no sport escaped from the eye of the Pep Club.

Pep Band Sets Rhythm for Spirit

The Pep Band this year, under the direction of student conductor Jane Murphy, assembled together at every home basketball game. Their purpose was to provide entertaining music and the fight song for the home crowd and the basketball team. This spirit-minded group consists of ten individuals from the Concert Band. They unselfishly gave of their time every week after school in order that the Band may be represented at every game. Their performances were readily appreciated by all who heard them.

LC majorettes were proud to assist pep band at rallies this year: Debbie Vassal, Liz Berkemeier, Mary Carol Hooper.

The answer is blowing in the gym.

"Everybody is a Star"

Take ten court candidates, blend with a parade of paper flowers, streamers and cheer, beat in an exciting football game, spice the concoction with alumni, top it off with a dance, and you have a winning recipe for a remarkable Homecoming weekend.

Plans were made and started by the nomination of ten Seniors to be honored on the Homecoming Court and a school-wide election took place later in the week. Excitement mounted as the big Flint Powers game and weekend festivities approached. At 6:00 on October 9, L.C. buzzed with activity as the court and decorated cars took their places for the misty and spirited motorcade to the stadium to begin. At half-time the ceremony began with last year's Queen, Lee Ann Louis, crowning Margie Kuhl and Randy Wrozek as 1971 Homecoming King and Queen and Sara Paulis and Tim McAuliffe as first runners up. After a well fought ball game, all retired to a relaxing dance with the music of Julia. The theme of "Everybody is a Star" honored the King and Queen and their attendants. After the preparations and enjoyment of an evening's activities, another Homecoming was committed to memory.

Mardi Gras Moves the Missions

In the lazy days of February, plans were plotted for the annual Titan Mardi Gras. Once the booths were set up, L.C. exploded with activity as the day got underway. The usual sideline shoe shine booths, baked goods sales, fortune telling booths, slave auctions, and record dedications grasped the interest of meandorers. The jail captivated an extraordinary number of outlaws, bandits and other notorious characters. The pie-eating contest found faculty and students alike donned in blueberry, apple, and coconut cremeecstacy with Mark Olinyk as the quickest (and sickest) pie consumer in the West. Wheels churned and crowds roared as the Titan Trike Team competed for the championship, won by Mark O'Connell and his hot wheels. The sensational vibrations of the Whiz Kids set everybody's feet a-dancing to finish a truely successful day of roving, carefree fun. The abundant financial profits were graced to the missions of the five orders of religious at Christi and the prophets of light-hearted, good times were graced to every Titan who took part in the successful Mardi Gras festivities.

Career Day Finds Its Place

This year saw the beginning of a new tradition here at Lumen Christi. The first Career Day was held and proved to be a great success. The guidance department along with several students and administrators worked to prepare a program which would be both interesting and informative. Judging by the response they received following the various seminars it could be said that some of the valuable knowledge which was gained was unsurpassed by anything ever attempted of this type. The idea was a totally new one for the guidance department and it wasn't before many long hours of studying and preparation had taken place that the final plans were finally completed. Many noted men were brought in from around the Jackson area and spoke on the various careers which might soon await many of our students. Their smoothly flowing program made career day at Lumen Christi a memorable and beneficial experience for all.

The Symphonic Swing, under flowered arches, moved the couples to a variety of melodies. After dancing, many couples dined throughout the city. Under superb supervision, the Class of '72 succeeded in conjouring up one enchanting evening in the kingdom of Camelot.

Memoirs of a Yearbook Staff

Another fit of hysteria clutches Debbie Dressell as Patty Frederick serenely faces her predicament.

These are just a few of the memories as we review our past years work. Despite all drawbacks and obstacles we managed to struggle through to meet the final deadline. Our advisor, Mrs. Bert Tuttle, kept us informed and encouraged. The help of Pam Karasek and Fr. George Dooher with layouts and the new challenge of developing our own pictures and the art work of Ann Finnegan for the cover design and Tom Berkemier for the memorial page, helped carry out the effects we wanted. In the future years, when you look back through the fourth edition of the L.C. yearbook, we hope you are reminded of the time it took to produce its pages and the obstacles and experiences you enjoyed through the year. We now present to you, in picture and print, another segment of our Titan tale.

Motto— The world is round, and the place which may seem like the end may only be the beginning.

Colors— Yellow and White

Flower—Daisy

Patron—St. Jude

dances at Queens . . . St. John orientation days . . . IBM card spirit contest and party at Star Hall . . . Georgy Girl . . . opening of the new cafetorium and gym . . . freshman play—The Boor . . . imitations of toothpaste tubes . . . music class and the baroque period . . . X-mas caroling at Paka Plaza and the prison and the bus ride home with smashed bodies and someone's glasses being thrown out the window . . . big brothers and sisters for initiation . . . Greiner's hay-rides . . . Kuder Preference Tests . . . Romeo and Juliet . . . jugs and detentions . . . apple picking . . . 666 games . . . bon-fires . . . bus cards . . . "wait a while" . . . City Champs—first and last . . . Sutton's "bunch of pigs" . . . rock concerts at the part . . . a Christian institution . . . New Years Eve parties . . . little Mary's grave and the Castle . . . love makes the world go round . . . square dancing . . . Burger Chef . . . rec nights . . . Portage Lake picnics . . . decorating the priests house . . . Proposal C . . . pitching pennies . . . the belles of 104 . . . those Jane Newman looks . . . ACT tests . . . world's finest chocolate bars . . . Prom . . . decorating for Camelot . . . O'Brien Road . . . Brother Phil . . . "shoot that guy" . . . hard boiled eggeating contests and Schmucker walking through glass doors . . . trigging logs . . . midge . . . crows . . . friendships . . . break-ups . . . old buddy graduates . . . cast parties . . . student council picnics . . . mass . . . the age of majority . . . ring ceremonies . . . homecoming . . . pioneers . . . death . . . life . . . relax . . . growing . . . learning . . . loving . . . leaving . . . anticipation.

Congratulations, Graduates

We add our congratulations to the many you are receiving as you graduate. At Consumers Power Company, our major job is to provide dependable electric and gas service. But that isn't our only responsibility. We have long been committed to the preservation of our environment. As one of the largest electric and gas utilities in the United States, we are always in need of qualified personnel. If you are interested in a future with Consumers Power, please contact the Company's local division office.

We were part of the beginning
. . . a new frontier
. . . and now leaving, we are

. . . the last of the pioneers.
